Dear Chris,

Our editorial team has reviewed your submission, "International Perspectives on Research Data Management Services in Academic Libraries," and we have a recommendation of accepted with major revisions required. What this means is that we think your piece is a fantastic fit for our the journal, as long as you continue to refine your submission based on our feedback.

The earlier you can provide these edits to us, the sooner your piece will reach publication-ready status! Please note that we prefer turnaround times of four-to-six weeks from our authors during the months of September-May. Piece that follow this pattern will be more likely to stay higher in our editorial queue.

The edits we require can be viewed in the attached Consolidated Referee Report (CRR), which you can find attached to this email.

Next steps:

Once you have reviewed the CRR and revised your manuscript, you may submit your revision for final approval. To submit a revision, use the Revise Submission link on the following page:

<https://scholarworks.sjsu.edu/cgi/preview.cgi?article=1514&context=ischoolsrj>

If you have any questions at all, please do not hesitate to email me!

Hey

Hope all is well!

I want to keep you in the loop regarding our paper. We were accepted on the terms of major revisions.

I'm planning and working through the revisions a little at a time, hopefully get through it this semester, but it may take longer.

Let me know if you're interested in revisiting the work with me,

Chris Reynolds

Hi ██████████

Thanks for following up. ██████████ and I are attempting to have the rewrite ready for resubmission by the end of the month. It took us a while to understand the CRR and follow through on a plan to address all the issues that were mentioned. Specifically changing from a passive voice, while making our writing clear and succinct has been a journey. Hopefully our timeline isn't too late for the journal.

Thank you,
Chris Reynolds

Hey Chris,

That's fine - I'm glad you're working on it and were able to use the comments in the CRR. Looking forward to seeing it come in at the end of the month!

Hi Chris,

Thanks for your resubmission to the journal. [REDACTED]'s term as EIC ended in December, so I will now be working with you to get your piece published.

We are currently reviewing your article but need it to have line numbers for proper review. Please resubmit the article with line numbers. Thank you!

All best,

[REDACTED]

Sorry about that, apparently downloaded PDFs from Google Docs don't keep the numbers. The line numbers are in there now.

Let me know if anything else is needed.

Regards,

Chris Reynolds

Hi Chris and [REDACTED]

(Apologies for only just looping you in, [REDACTED])

After reviewing your revision, we determined only minor edits were needed to bring your manuscript to the finish line. Great work!

In the attached PDF, you'll see copy edits and notes. Let me know if you have any questions about them.

Two specific notes:

- Make sure you put the thesis (the answer to your RQs) in the introduction. You can consider distilling the conclusion (especially the last paragraph) into 1-2 sentences. I know you have a thesis, I see it in the manuscript! There's a clear analytical culmination to all the literature review-ing you did - you just need to make sure you put an explicit "whiff" of it in the introduction.
- Also, the explanation about using the terms "economically developing and developed" countries was clear and helpful.

Once you implement these changes, it will be on track to be in the May issue. We typically give 2 weeks for minor edits—so Saturday, March 1—but let me know if you need more time. You can use the same link above to resubmit.

Again, wonderful work—this was a rich manuscript with great scholarly value.

All best,

[REDACTED]

Hi all,

Checking in on the revision status. Let me know if you have any questions. We'd be happy to extend the deadline to Friday, March 14 if needed—and if you need more time, we can work with you on that. Thanks!

All best,
